How to Update Faculty/Staff Section Entries

The following information explains how the material that appears in the Faculty/Staff section of the Directory is collected and how it can be changed if an entry is incorrect. The accuracy of an entry is the responsibility of a staff/faculty member; the Office of Publications cannot change an entry. Please read the description below to find out how the system works.

The Faculty/Staff section of the Directory contains entries for UIUC personnel paid through the University payroll system¹; nonsalaried employees and members of authorized allied organizations²; and retired persons.³

It is sent to the publisher in the form of a computer tape generated by Payroll and AISS. Therefore, changes in someone's entry must be made either through forms submitted to Payroll (GROUP 1 below) or forms submitted to Publications and processed by AISS (GROUP 2 below). In late September the staff at the Office of Publications receives the Faculty/Staff section of the Directory as a completed computer tape, which it cannot alter. Therefore, any corrections that an employee wishes to make to his or her entry must be made by the employee on the forms described below.

GROUP 1 (controlled by Payroll [333-2443])

¹If you are on the University payroll, your Faculty/Staff section entry is compiled from the information contained in your payroll record as of September 21. This is what you need to do to change any of the following items:

TITLE/OFFICE AFFILIATION:

Each regularly employed UIUC faculty/staff member has a change of status form that is individual to him or her. The person in your office who handles personnel matters (for example, the department secretary) has access to this form. If you need to change your title, contact the department secretary, correct the form, and have it sent through the proper channels (academic, staff, and central administration employee papers are routed differently) to eventually arrive at the academic or staff personnel office. A new form will be sent from the appropriate personnel office to your department secretary confirming that your status has been corrected.

NAME/SPOUSE'S NAME/OFFICE ADDRESS/OFFICE TELEPHONE/HOME ADDRESS/HOME TELEPHONE:

If you need to make a change in any of these items, contact your departmental business office and complete a new Employee Information Form. If you have questions about completing the form (e.g., how to abbreviate your building name or how to delete an ex-spouse), ask someone in your departmental business office to assist you. Academic and graduate employees must submit their forms to the Academic Human Resources Office. (Staff employees will submit their forms to the Personnel Services Office and students to the Payroll Office.) If you cannot obtain an Employee Information Form in your department, call the appropriate office: Academic Human Resources, 333-2759; Personnel Services, 333-2143; or Payroll Office, 333-8452. DO NOT use a suppression card (described below) to delete an ex-spouse permanently from your payroll record; use the Employee Information Form.

GROUP 2 (controlled by Publications [333-9200] and AISS)

Allied/Affiliated Agencies and Nonsalaried Employees Form

²Listings for nonsalaried employees and for personnel at allied agencies are derived from allied agency forms available from the Office of Publications (333-9200). These data are compiled anew each year, so a new form must be submitted annually.

Retired/Disability Form

³In early June each year, the Office of Publications obtains (from the State Universities Retirement System) the names of retired and disabled University personnel and mails each a retired/disability form. If you will retire between June 1 and September 21 (and therefore will be included neither in the retirement system mailing list nor in the payroll system), contact Publications (333-9200) to request a form. A new form must be submitted each year.

Some faculty/staff members on the University payroll have special situations that they would like to have reflected in the Faculty/Staff section of the directory. There are forms for this purpose, and they are described below.

Joint Appointment Form

If your payroll record does not contain all of your titles, you may wish to submit a joint appointment form. Call Publications (333-9200) to request one.

Suppression Form

To withhold personal information (spouse's name, home address and/or telephone number), call Publications (333-9200) to request a suppression card. Once submitted, a suppression remains in effect until the Office of Publications receives a reinstatement request. NOTE: To delete a spouse's name permanently, use the Employee Information Form. See information for GROUP 1 above.

The deadline for returning completed forms to the Office of Publications is September 1.

ELECTRONIC MAIL addresses are compiled on a separate database and are automatically published unless staff members make arrangements to withhold them. For information about the listing options for your email address, see pages 13 and 14 of the Student/Staff Directory.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS must follow the steps outlined for both faculty/staff and students in order to withhold information from the directory.

CALLING FEATURES ACCESSIBLE FROM ADMINISTRATIVE LINES (333 AND 244 NUMBERS)

Consult the user guide for your telephone. Call 333-1161 for more information regarding features and services.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE POLICIES

1. University regulations prohibit third number billing to administrative lines.
2. University phone lines are set up to reject most collect and third number calls placed to them. Most phone lines are also restricted from placing "900" and "976" calls. These types of calls are not only expensive, they are often fraudulent. If a department needs a 900 access, it may request the service.
3. Numbers secured from Directory Assistance should be recorded for future reference. All departments will be billed (per line) $.65 for each long-distance Directory Assistance call and $.45 for each local Directory Assistance call.
4. Person-to-person calls are very costly. Call station-to-station instead. A person-to-person call will add $4.00 to the cost of your call.
5. Personal calls should not be placed. Departments are responsible for initiating appropriate action against individuals who use the telephone for inappropriate personal calling. If a personal long-distance call is an absolute necessity, call collect or follow the procedures for using a personal long-distance credit card.
6. The University issues proprietary credit cards as a convenience for personnel who travel on University business or who find it necessary to place a long-distance business call from a telephone in some location other than a University office. University credit cards should not be used when placing calls from University telephones. Credit cards are issued to individuals and each is responsible for all calls placed on that number. The card may not be used by anyone other than the person to whom it is issued. Charges incurred by use of this card will be billed to the department via the monthly location detail from CCSO.
It is illegal to use a University credit card for personal calls. However, use of the card is permissible for placing calls to the individual's residence to report a safe arrival or when extensive travel is required. Allowable calls should be limited to five minutes every other day, unless a change in travel plans occurs and the family should be advised.
7. Approval must be obtained from CCSO before purchasing or leasing any telecommunications service or equipment from an outside vendor. Call 333-8499 for details on the procedure.

NEW TELEPHONE SERVICE OR CHARGES

Basic Changes in or Additions to Your Telephone Service. Submit a Telecommunications Service Order form to CCSO, 1608 University Inn. Call 333-1161 with questions or for information.

1. Voice Services, 244-7676. Free consulting is offered for major voice service installations (typically over ten to fifteen stations) and special service applications.
2. Data Services, 333-2874. Information and planning assistance are available for data, low-voltage wiring, networking, and "B" jack applications.

CHANGES IN DIRECTORY LISTINGS

To change your telephone number or address, you must submit a new check distribution form at the Payroll Office. Be sure to do this if you have a change in telephone number; it will not be reflected in the next directory or the current telephone operator directory information unless you do.

RATES FOR NETWORK—LONG-DISTANCE CALLS

Rates are based on a percentage of AT&T long-distance charges. AT&T rates are calculated based on the distance from Champaign-Urbana to the city one is calling. To verify billed rates, contact the CCSO Business Office at 333-7689.

INTERNATIONAL CALLS

All administrative telephones (333 or 244 prefixes) programmed for international service have access to any international telephone number. To dial those areas, follow these steps:

1. Dial 9.
2. Dial 011 (the international access code).
3. Dial the country code.
4. Then dial the city code.
5. And the local number.

(If you are calling from a touch-tone telephone, press the # button after completing the entire number. This will speed your call along.)

For example, to make a call to Glasgow, you would dial: 9 + 011 (international access code) + 44 (country code) + 41 (city code) + the local number.

Urbana-Champaign campus should send them to Telex number 5101011969 (answer back code, UI TELCOM URUD). Messages should include the addressee's name AND campus address. Telecommunications will forward these messages through campus mail. For information about sending and receiving Telex messages, contact your telecommunications coordinator or the Customer Services Office, 333-1161.

FACSIMILE SERVICE

CCSO offers a facsimile service that can send or receive documents worldwide. The CCSO fax telephone number is 217-333-9758. Fax messages sent to CCSO for other campus units should include the recipient's name and campus address. A charge does apply for sending facsimile messages. For more information, contact the Customer Service Office at 333-5137.

CELLULAR MOBILE TELEPHONES

The Office of Telecommunications leases cellular telephones to campus units that need them on a temporary basis. Cellular telephones are self-contained telephones that can be used in an automobile or in any situation where a portable telephone is needed. Calls can be made to or received from any telephone number, as long as the unit is in an area served by a cellular transmission tower. In Illinois, this includes most areas from the central part of the state, north to Chicago and Rockford, and the St. Louis area. Cellular phones can also be used in other states. For more information, call the Customer Service Office at 333-1161.

To ensure that appropriate state guidelines are followed, units wishing to lease or purchase cellular phones and service should contact CCSO prior to contacting a vendor.

POCKET PAGING SERVICE

CCSO offers two types of pocket paging services to the campus. A campus/local area service provides pocket paging on campus and to surrounding communities. The system supports both tone-voice and digital pagers. Units are charged a flat monthly rate for the service and can purchase pagers through the CCSO Customer Service Office. Pagers can also be leased for short-term requirements.

For paging needs that extend beyond Champaign County, statewide paging can be provided through CCSO from the State of Illinois Central Management Services. Both paging services can be used from telephones on or off campus, but digital paging access requires a touch-tone telephone.

Call the CCSO Customer Service Office at 333-1161 for more information and/or order procedures for either service.

VIDEO CONFERENCE SERVICE

CCSO offers a video conference service that provides interactive visual and audio communication between other compatible video conference units. The video conference room is located in room 14 Illini Hall. An identical arrangement is available on the UIC campus in room 118 Douglas Hall; communication with other locations is also possible. The service is available for any University-related activity, including distance learning, meetings, interviews, discussion groups, lectures, and demonstrations. Use is billed at set hourly rates. For more information and scheduling, contact 333-2874 or 333-6285.

TELECONFERENCING SERVICE

Teleconferencing options are available from most campus telephones or through the campus operators.

Operator-Arranged Conferences. If you have more than six parties who need to be part of a conference call or if you would rather the call be arranged by an operator, you have two options. Both of the operator conferencing services described below can accommodate up to twenty-nine conferees, on or off campus. The use of either service must be prearranged with the chief operator, and a charge applies to each. For more information about either service, call 333-0133.

1. Operator Conference. A campus operator calls each party and connects them together through the campus phone system.
2. Meet-Me Conference. A campus operator makes a special conference facility available at a prearranged time. Conferees simply call a special conference telephone number and the phone system automatically connects them together.

Station-Controlled Conference. This type of conference call can be set up by the station user without the aid or expense of an operator.

1. Three-Way Conference. From a single-line telephone, establish the first call as usual, depress the switchhook momentarily and listen for a stuttered dial tone, dial a second party, depress the switchhook again. All three parties are connected. From a multi-line telephone, follow the procedure above but depress the CONF 3 button instead of the switchhook.
2. Six-Party Conference. From a single-line phone, establish the first call as usual, depress the switchhook momentarily and listen for a stuttered dial tone, dial the conference code 130. To add a conferee, depress the switchhook again and listen for the stuttered dial tone; dial the next number. After the party answers depress the switchhook again, then after the stuttered dial tone, dial the conference code 130. (Repeat for each additional conferee to be added.)

Note: Some single-line phones are equipped with a "tap or flash" button, which should be depressed instead of the switchhook.

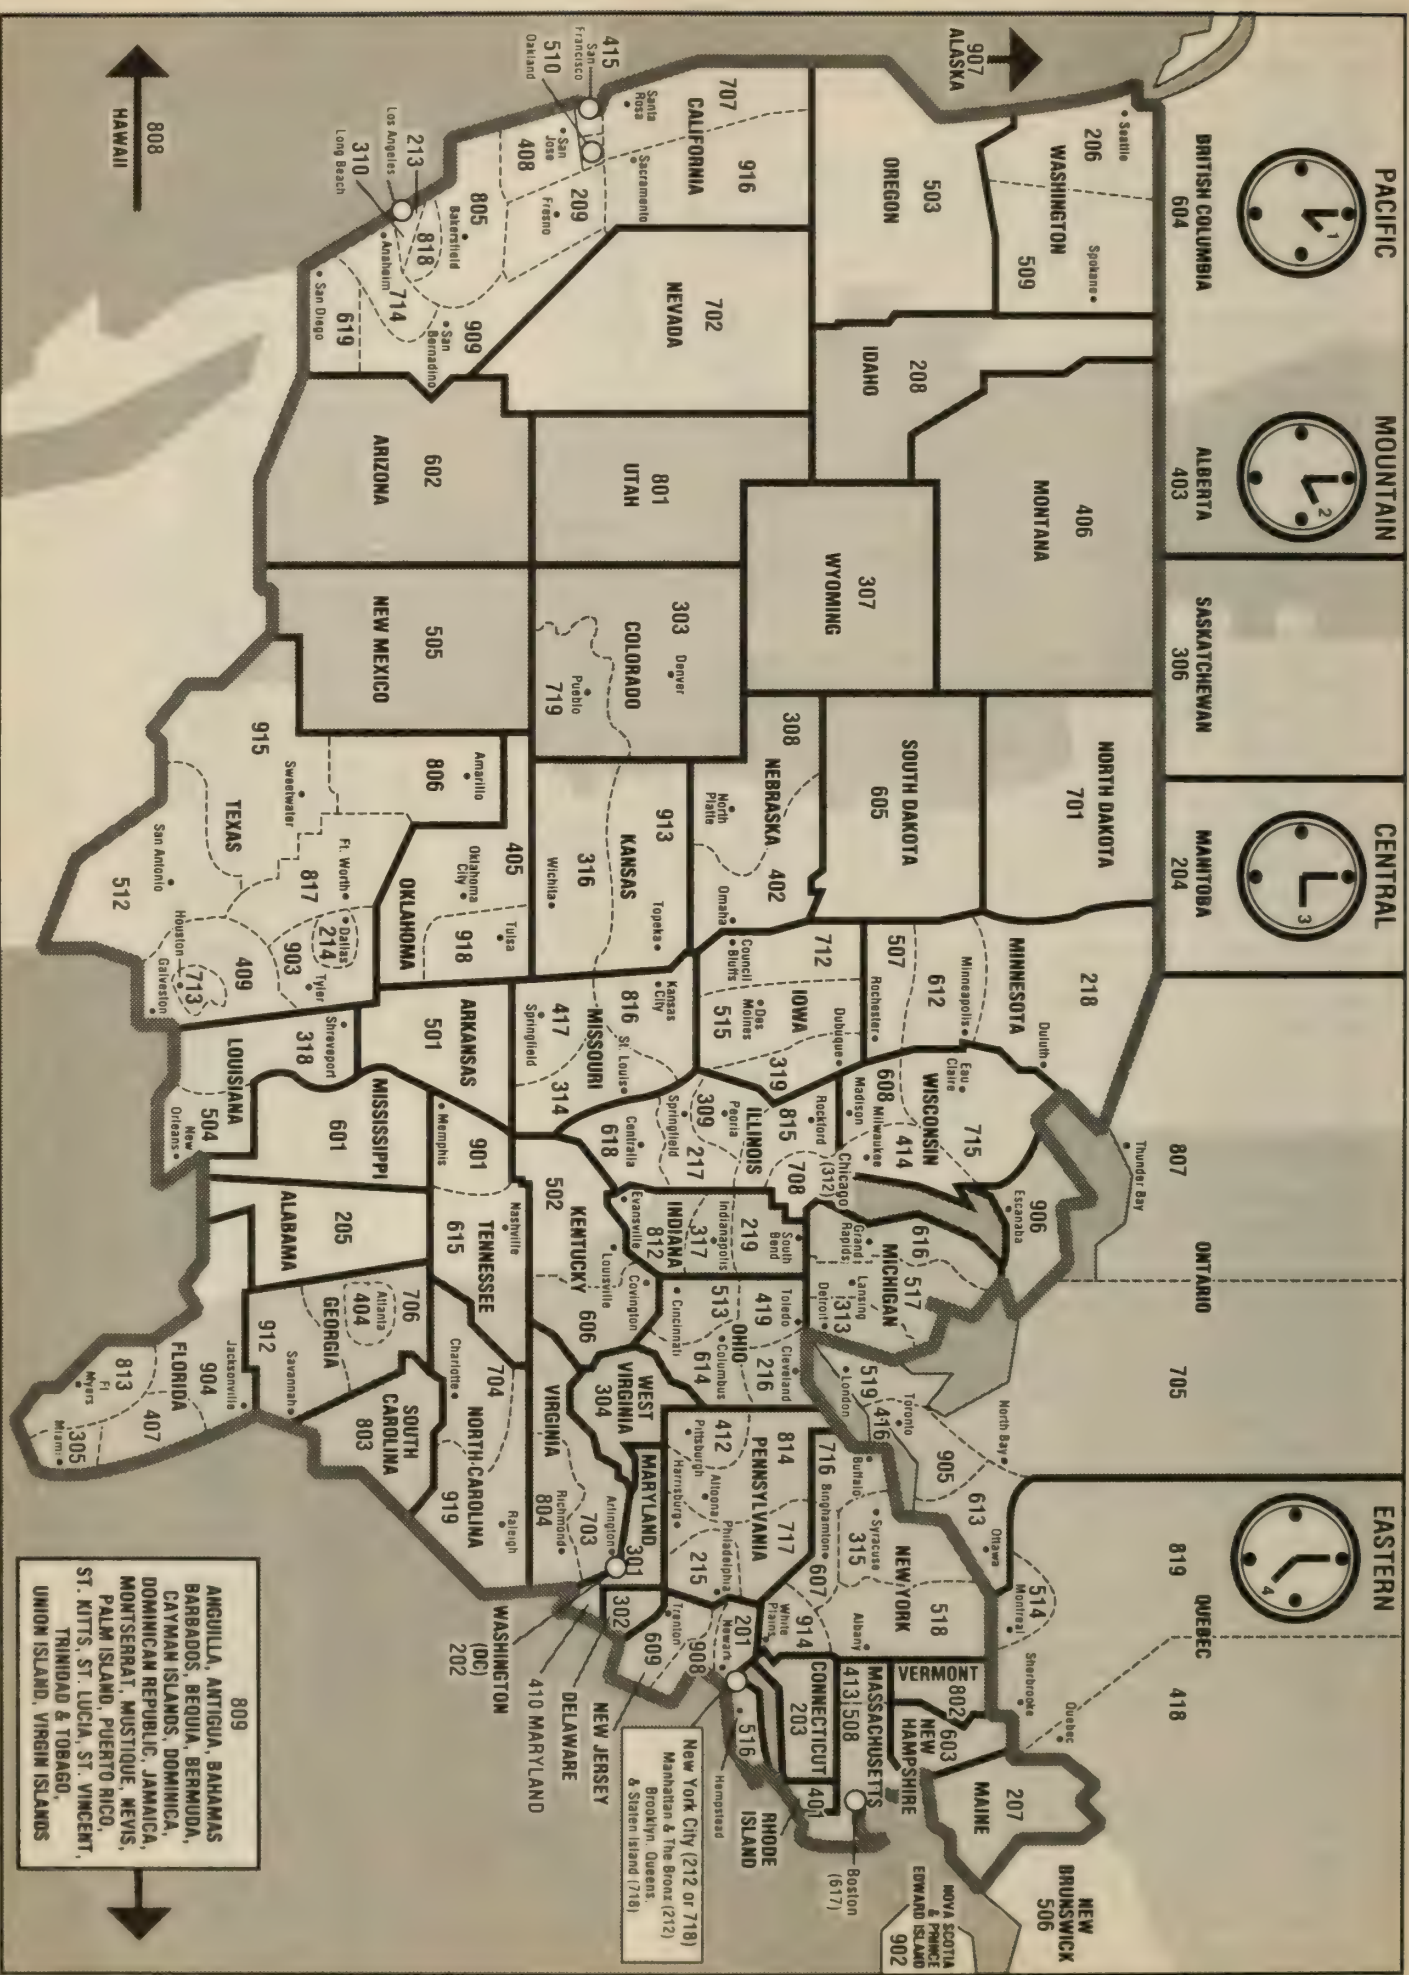

For additional information and instructions for a six-party conference from a multi-line phone, consult your user guide or call 333-1161.

CAMPUS MAIL INFORMATION

Campus Mail Distribution Unit
Hours: Monday through Friday, 8 am to 5 pm
1109 West Main Street (MC-259)
Urbana, IL 61801
PHONE: 333-2029

The Campus Mail Distribution Unit, located at 1109 West Main Street, picks up and delivers all intracampus mail. Other services include delivery of library books on a limited scale, delivery of packages under 4 pounds, shuttle service to the Chicago campus for campus mail, and readdressing of undeliverable as addressed U.S. mail. Campus Mail Distribution Unit services are state-supported and are free of charge to University departments, support units, and student groups.

Addressing Campus Mail

Mail that is incompletely or inaccurately addressed may be delayed in delivery or may be returned to the sender for a more complete address. To avoid such delays, use the correct addresses and proper abbreviations for campus buildings as listed in "Campus Street Addresses" (page 92) and "Abbreviations" (page 2).

NOTE: MAIL CODES SHOULD BE USED ON ALL MAIL. To find a specific mail code, turn to the Campus Units section (page 23) or to the mail code list in the Buildings section (page 96).

Campus mail delivery is provided for the normal flow of University mail. If a department has a heavy amount of mail to be delivered on campus, arrangements can be made through the main office of Mail Services for pickup of this mail, which will then be taken to the Campus Mail Distribution Unit. A charge will be made for that service. The address on a letter or package to be sent via campus mail should contain the following:

Name of person for whom the item is intended
Department name
Building and room number
Street address
Mail code

Any mailing involving over 100 pieces must be in mail code order. Mailings over 100 pieces that are without mail codes or that are not in mail code order will not be processed.

Mailing Lists

The Campus Mail Distribution Unit maintains several often-requested files such as the mailing lists of Deans, Directors, Departments Heads, and Business Administrators and of Illinois high schools. It can also locate commercially available mailings lists.

Return Addresses

A large volume of U.S. mail arrives in Champaign-Urbana insufficiently addressed for proper delivery to the campus. This mail is forwarded to the Campus Mail Distribution Unit for readdressing. Such mail is given a thorough directory search for the proper address and is then sent on to its campus destination. This slows down the receipt of mail. To assure that your mail will be delivered promptly to you, a correct return address should be used on all outgoing mail. The proper form for a return address is:

Name
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
Department name
Room number and building name
Street address
City, IL Zip code (plus four, if known)

Call Mail Services Customer Service at 333-6101 for zip+4 information.

Note: Be sure to use Urbana or Champaign as part of the address.

The Mail Services Production Unit processes all outgoing U.S. and foreign mail as well as parcels and packages going via other carriers. It is a self-supporting unit and charges departments for all services performed.

The Mail Services staff is your liaison with the U.S. Postal Service. It will assist you with USPS requirements for the following:

- ❖ preparation for the greatest postage discounts
- ❖ fees and permits
- ❖ business reply mail
- ❖ metering, indicia, and precancelled stamping
- ❖ proper addressing
- ❖ mail piece design for Optical Character Recognition
- ❖ marking and endorsing mail
- ❖ acceptance procedures

Mail Services can help you with the design of your mail piece. It also offers assistance with your choice of mailing list and class of mail. It will see that you make the most economical choices and receive the best service. It has equipment available to burst, fold, insert, label, and apply postage to all classes of mail. The Mail Services Production Unit can also make arrangements for alternative carriers (such as Federal Express). From letters to large packages, from first to fourth class, it sees that your mailing project gets done in the fastest, most efficient way possible.

Mail Services staff members come to campus offices and pick up all of your daily mail, weigh and meter it, and see that it receives proper postage. This saves you the expense of renting a meter and can save hundreds of dollars in wasted postage. All mail is delivered to the U.S. Post Office on the same day that it is picked up from campus offices.

To speed processing of mailing lists and to presort names and addresses for the lowest postage rates, the Mail Services Production Unit can now receive your address files over the Administrative Computer Network, on diskette, or on magnetic tape. The Data Processing Department can standardize your file according to USPS guidelines. Once your file has been cleaned up, it appends the carrier route and zip+4 information before printing your mailing labels. It prints your labels in presort order to save you postage.

The Mail Services Production Unit also sets up accounts for any reoccurring monthly jobs such as storage or pickups and deliveries. For other types of jobs, call the Customer Service Department.

U.S. Mail

In order for the U.S. Postal Service to deliver U.S. mail on campus, address elements in a specific order are required.

Ways to Save Money on Mailings

- ❖ Consult Mail Services before you design any mail piece.
- ❖ Preschedule your mailings.
- ❖ Use the correct return address.
- ❖ Always include a letter of instruction with your mailing. Include department name, contact, phone, and account number as well as specific instructions for processing. Always include a sample of your mail piece with your instructions.
- ❖ Send your address file to Mail Services over the Administrative Computer Network. Call Mail Services at 333-6101 for format information or security clearance.
- ❖ Use the proper format for your Business Reply Mail.
- ❖ Use the proper endorsement. The endorsement must be placed below the return address with at least 1/4 inch clear space above and below the endorsement. Endorsements must be in at least 8 point Helvetica type (or equivalent). The same endorsement is treated differently on different classes of mail. Before using any endorsement, please contact Mail Services at 333-6101 for advice on proper endorsement and placement.
- ❖ Make sure your pieces can be processed by machine instead of by hand. Call Mail Services at 333-6101 for detailed instructions.

Special Services

Daily Mail Pickups: The service of Daily Mail Pickup provides complete processing and delivery to the U.S. Postal Service of daily office mail. Mail not marked for a particular class will be sent First Class. Envelopes larger than No. 10, business-size, should have the flaps closed or sealed. Envelopes should not be stuffed to the point they will split open in transit. For heavy materials use padded envelopes or corrugated boxes. Please separate stamped mail from mail that must be metered. All foreign mail must be in envelopes.

Pickup and Delivery: For pickup and delivery needs, Mail Services has available within its fleet the type and size of vehicle to handle almost any request.

Freight Mail: When something is too heavy for the USPS mail system, Mail Services will make arrangements to have it shipped.

Automatic Labeling: Mail Services' automatic labeling equipment handles many different sizes of Cheshire labels. The standard is 4 UP Cheshire. 4 UP Cheshire labels are printed on tractor feed computer paper, 4 across and 11 down per page. Contact Mail Services for exact specifications. The machine is equipped with its own glue.

Inserting: Mail Services uses automatic inserting machines for inserting up to eight inserts in an envelope as large as 9" x 12". The machine seals the flap and applies First-Class or Third-Class bulk-rate postage. Call Mail Services for specifications.

Folding: Mail Services is equipped with several folding machines to accommodate most folding needs. However, a flat piece should not exceed 11" x 17". A piece of material folded in a "Z" fold or accordion style cannot be handled on automatic stuffing equipment. When folding on automatic equipment, stapled pages should all be stapled at the top of the page in the center (with the pages even).

Stapling: Stapling is mostly a manual operation. However, Mail Services is equipped to handle most stapling jobs.

Packaging and Wrapping: Mail Services provides complete packaging. All articles are securely padded and wrapped to ensure safe delivery through the U.S. Postal Service or United Parcel Service. We are equipped with boxes for packaging, reinforced tape for sealing boxes, plastic banding for heavier items, and metal strapping for large, heavy crates. All packages are checked and tested to ensure proper transportation. If you prefer to package the materials for mailing, Mail Services can suggest the best procedure for the particular item.

Electronic Mail Addresses

Electronic mail has come of age as a communications medium. Electronic mail combines the speed of the telephone with the convenience and accuracy of paper mail, making it an ideal communications tool.

For the convenience of electronic mail users, electronic mail addresses are printed in the Student/Staff Directory. If you do not wish to have your electronic mail address listed, see the third option under Options for Listing your Electronic Mail Address below.

Registering Your Electronic Mail Account

Your electronic mail account must be registered for your electronic mail address to appear in the directory. This can occur in several ways. If you have an account listed in the Computing and Communications Services Office (CCSO) Nameserver (ph) system, that account will be used. If you obtain an account on a CCSO computer, you will be given the opportunity to register that account as your electronic mail account. If you have an account on the Office of Administrative Information Systems and Services (AISS) computer, that account will be registered for you. You may also register your electronic mail account by coming to the CCSO Resource Center at 1420 Digital Computer Lab.

Options for Listing Your Electronic Mail Address

You have three listing options for your electronic mail address. The first option is to list your Nameserver address. This address is provided for you by CCSO and most often consists of your first initial, a dash, and your last name, followed by "@uiuc.edu." An example of a Nameserver address is "p-pomes@uiuc.edu." Mail sent to your Nameserver address will be sent automatically to your registered electronic mail account. The advantage of listing your Nameserver address is that it does not change when you change accounts; you need only register your new account, and mail sent to your Nameserver address will be sent automatically to the new account. Your correspondents need not be notified of the change, since the address they use (your Nameserver address) will not change. This option was selected for you unless a specific request was in effect.

The second option is to list your specific electronic mail account. If you choose this option, whatever account you register will appear in the directory. To exercise this option, come to the CCSO Resource Center at 1420 Digital Computer Lab. Users of the CCSO Nameserver (ph) can also set their "paper" field to "specific."

The third option is not to list your electronic mail account. If you wish to register your account (to allow your correspondents to use your Nameserver address, for instance) but do not wish to have your address printed in the staff section of the directory, come to the CCSO Resource Center at 1420 Digital Computer Lab. Users of the CCSO Nameserver (ph) can also set their "paper" field to "no."

The Nameserver: Access to Information through Ph

Registered electronic mail addresses are kept in the CCSO Nameserver (ph). Ph also contains most of the information in this directory, as well as the current University instructional timetable, up-to-the-hour weather information, a restaurant guide, and MTD schedules.

To use ph from a UNIX, VMS, or CMS computer, type ph followed by the name of the person or thing about which you want information:

ph paul pomes

name: pomes paul
phone: 333-6262
address: 1120 dcl
      : campus mc 256
department: computing services office
title: sr res programmer
hours: 8-4, M-F
email to: p-pomes@uiuc.edu (paul@uxc.cso.uiuc.edu)

The last line of this listing gives the electronic mail addresses. The Nameserver address is listed first (in this case, "p-pomes@uiuc.edu"). The specific electronic mail account is listed in parentheses after the Nameserver address (in this case, "paul@uxc.cso.uiuc.edu").

If ph has more than one screenful of information to print, it will pause between screenfuls. To see the next screenful, press the space bar (CMS users should press the "Clear" key instead).

Ph normally prints only a selection of the information it has about a person. To see all the information about someone (including such things as home phone number), add return all to your ph command; for example, ph paul pomes return all.

Ph has numerous other options and capabilities. Documentation on these features can be found within ph. To access this documentation, type ph all by itself. You will be put in ph's "interactive mode," and you will see a "ph>" prompt. Type help to get a listing of the available documentation; type help name-of-topic-you-want to get the documentation on a particular topic. "Help introduction" and "help manpage" are topics of special interest to beginners.

Forwarding Electronic Mail through Ph

We have already mentioned the Nameserver address and how it can be used to send electronic mail. Actually, the Nameserver address is only one of the ways ph can be used to address mail. Another convenient way to send mail is by using someone's name. To send mail by name, send it to firstname-lastname@uiuc.edu, with firstname and lastname as the first and last names of the person you want to send mail to. If the person has a registered electronic mail account, the mail will be delivered to that account. If the person has not registered his or her address, or if more than one person shares the first and last names, your mail will be returned to you. Whenever possible, the returned mail will include suggestions on how to address your mail so that it can be delivered.

Changing Information in Ph

You can change almost all of the information ph keeps about you. To do this, you must first obtain your Nameserver password. This is done by coming to the CCSO Resource Center at 1420 Digital Computer Lab. You will need to present a valid University ID. This inconvenience is necessary to prevent disclosure of your Nameserver password to third parties.

A Nameserver alias is a unique name by which ph knows you; no two people have the same alias. The alias is used for three things; it is the first part of your Nameserver address, and it is used when you log in to the CCSO dialup terminal servers or in to ph. The latter is necessary to change your ph entry.

Once you have your password, enter ph's interactive mode by typing ph. When the "ph>" prompt appears, type login your-alias (don't type "your-alias" literally—type your ph alias); when you are prompted for your password, type it.

Now you are ready to make changes. Your entry is divided into separate pieces of information called fields. The names of these fields are printed to the left of their values. To see all the fields in your entry, type me. To add a field to your entry or to change the contents of a field, type make name-of-field="whatever-you-want-in-the-field." You can obtain a list of valid field names with the "fields" command. When you are done making changes, type quit.

Here is an example ph session:

ph
200:Database ready.
ph> login p-pomes
Enter nameserver password: secret-stuff-here
200:p-pomes:Hi how are you?
ph> make hours="8-4, M-F"
200:1 entry changed.
ph> me

alias: p-pomes
 name: pomes paul email: pomes@uxc.cso.uiuc.edu
 ...
 title: sr res programmer
 hours: 8-4, M-F

ph> quit
 200: Bye!

You can also have changes made to your ph entry by coming to the CCSO Resource Center at 1420 Digital Computer Lab.

Courtesy Access to Ph

Ph is available on hundreds of campus computers. If you do not have ph on your computer, contact your systems administrator about having it installed. CCSO also provides free access to ph on the computer ux1.cso.uiuc.edu. This computer can be accessed over the network (telnet ux1.cso.uiuc.edu), by sytek (call 1600), or by dialup (333-4000, ux1). When you are prompted for a "username," type phones. When you are prompted for your terminal type, you can just press return if you are a vt100 user. If you have a different type of terminal or terminal emulator, type its name (the CCSO consultants, 333-6133, can help you find the right name for your terminal). Once you have entered your terminal type, a "ph>" prompt will appear, and you will be able to use ph commands.

Changing Faculty/Staff Section Electronic Mail Addresses

If your electronic mail address does not appear in the faculty/staff section of this directory, and you want it to appear next year, first register the account. See "Registering Your Electronic Mail Account" above. Then choose among the "Options for Listing Your Electronic Mail Address" for the address you want to appear in the directory.

If your electronic mail address appeared, but should have been suppressed, see the third "Options for Listing Your Electronic Mail Address" or see "AISS PROFS" if it is a PROFS address.

If your electronic mail address appeared, but it is incorrect, follow the directions in "Listing Options," "Changing Information in Ph," or "AISS PROFS" to make changes.

For More Information

Questions about ph that are not resolved by ph's "help" command should be directed to the maintainer of the ph software, Paul Pomes, by electronic mail to p-pomes@uiuc.edu.

AISS PROFS

AISS has its own electronic mail system called PROFS, covering the administrative computing community at the University of Illinois on the Chicago and Urbana-Champaign campuses. In order to use PROFS, one must first have a PROFS account. PROFS has three user directories, consisting of PROFS users, UIC faculty and staff members, and UIUC faculty and staff members. The directories contain names and electronic mail address information and are easily accessible from the PROFS system by pressing PF7 from the PROFS main menu. A submenu will inform the user which PF key to press to access the desired directory. Names in a directory are sorted alphabetically by last name. Starting with the name that most closely matches the user's request, PROFS displays a full screen of directory entries. One can scroll forward and backward through this list.

Your PROFS ID was among those electronic mail addresses published here unless you requested otherwise. To suppress printing your PROFS ID in next year's directory, phone AISS at 333-0391.

Recycling at the University of Illinois

Illinois legislation signed in the fall of 1990 requires state-supported colleges and universities to reduce their waste stream by 40 percent by January 1, 2000, and to adopt purchasing policies that increase procurement of products with recycled content.

On the Urbana-Champaign campus we must eliminate more than 32,000 cubic yards of waste to comply with the legislation. Fortunately, the campus already has a progressive recycling program (adopted February 1989) operated through the Campus Recycling Offices in the Operations and Maintenance Division and the Housing Division. In fiscal year 1993, the department recycled thousands of pounds of materials: 1,592,000 pounds of paper; 1,033,000 pounds of cardboard; 229,000 pounds of glass and aluminum cans. With the help of everyone on campus, the University should continue making progress toward meeting its waste-reduction goals.

What the University Is Doing

Currently the University is recycling or recovering more than twenty different materials, including office and computer paper (the largest part of the waste stream), glass, cardboard, plastic (HDPE), motor oil, aluminum cans, scrap metal, automotive parts, yard waste, laboratory chemical waste, sawdust, and tires.

The University also supports research on new materials to recycle, considers other ways to increase the amount of material being diverted from the waste stream, and has adopted a policy to buy products made with recycled content.

The Purchasing Division will purchase recycled/recyclable products whenever cost, specifications, standards, and availability are comparable to nonrecycled/nonrecyclable products.

The Purchasing Division will assist you to

1. identify and project needs that exist within the University for equipment, supplies, and services for which recycled/recyclable products might be available.
2. identify suppliers that can competitively supply recycled/recyclable products.
3. structure bids to permit bidders to offer both nonrecycled and recycled products.

Call the Purchasing Division at 333-3505 for help with ordering recycled/recyclable products.

Recycled copy paper is available at the same price as regular copy paper in the eight Printing Services copy centers. For larger printing projects, any recycled sheet may be ordered. Printing Services is also a registered user of soy ink. Printing with soy ink can reduce the use of petroleum-based ink. Call Printing Services at 333-9350 for more information.

How You Can Participate

In buildings and University residence halls throughout campus, there are bins labeled for specific recyclable materials. Before you throw anything away, ask yourself: "Is this recyclable?" If it is, look around for the appropriate bin and recycle the material. Make sure you use the right bin by reading the guidelines on each bin before you toss. If you are unsure whether something is recyclable, call Campus Recycling.

If you work in a campus department that doesn't have recycle bins, call Campus Recycling and ask that some be placed in your area. If you need additional bins in your office on a temporary basis, Campus Recycling can provide these as well.

If you live in University housing and don't know where the bins are, ask your resident adviser.

If you would like to get involved in the recycling program, or need more information, please call:

University of Illinois Bicycle Guidelines

OPERATION OF BICYCLES

Any bicycle that is operated or parked on campus must be registered with the Division of Campus Parking and must be operated at all times in accordance with the current University Bicycle Code. There is no fee for this registration. Bring the following items and information to the office at 505 East Green:

- ❖ Bicycle's serial number
- ❖ The type of bicycle (make, model, and color)
- ❖ Your social security number and a photo ID

A complete copy of the regulations can be obtained from the Division of Campus Parking. A partial list of the regulations follows.

- ❖ Bicycles on campus must be registered.
- ❖ Most current bicycle registration is for an indefinite period, and registration renewal is not required unless the registration sticker becomes unreadable or there is a change in ownership. Any bicycle displaying a registration sticker that has an expiration date must be reregistered. A replacement should be obtained from the Division of Campus Parking if a registration sticker becomes damaged.
- ❖ Each bicycle must be equipped with an audible warning device, brake, and lights.
- ❖ Every person operating a bicycle must do so in obedience to traffic control devices and rules of the road applicable to motor vehicles under Illinois state law and to regulations included in the University Bicycle Code.
- ❖ Bicycles should be ridden only on bicycle paths or—where there are no paths—on streets. They SHOULD NEVER be ridden on campus sidewalks.
- ❖ Whenever a bicycle crosses a pathway used for pedestrian travel, the operator of the bicycle must yield the right-of-way to pedestrians.

BICYCLE PARKING

Bicycles can be parked on campus only in an area that has a "Bicycle Parking Area" sign or that has bicycle racks. Lack of available space within a specific bicycle parking area is not a valid reason for violating this regulation.

Within any bicycle parking area, a bicycle must be parked in a manner that obstructs only one of the positions provided by the bicycle rack.

Within a bicycle parking area, parking that obstructs entrance or exit is prohibited.

No person should leave a bicycle unattended without first locking it securely to a bicycle rack.

IMPOUNDING BICYCLES

A bicycle can be impounded if it is parked in an unauthorized place or manner, if it is not properly registered, or if it appears to have been abandoned.

When a bicycle is impounded, notice is sent within fifteen days to its registered owner at the address given on the latest registration form on file with the Division of Campus Parking.

Any impounded bicycle that is not redeemed within thirty days after notice is considered abandoned and will be disposed of by the University.

FURTHER INFORMATION

This map was produced as an aid to bicyclists. The user must realize that potential hazards exist along the routes. The University of Illinois does not warranty the safety or fitness of the suggested routes and is not responsible for your safety.
